National Endowment For The Arts Funds Construction Of $1.3 Billion Poem

NEA chairman Mark Barnes announces the allocation of $45 million for additional dashes.

WASHINGTON—The National Endowment for the Arts announced Monday that it has begun construction on a $1.3 billion, 14-line lyric poem—its largest investment in the nation's aesthetic-industrial complex since the $850 million interpretive-dance danger of completely falling apart," said the project's head stanza foreman Dana Gioia.

"We need to make sure America's poems remain the biggest, best-designed, best-funded poems in the world."

Chrysler Names '83 LeBaron CEO

AUBURN HILLS, MI—Praising the vehicle's 25 years of experience, its proven dependability, and its 2.2-liter internal combustion engine, Chrysler announced Monday that it has appointed a 1983 four-door LeBaron sedan as the company's new CEO.

"We believe that the LeBaron's expertise in dealing with customers, combined with its 100.3-inch wheelbase, makes it the right automobile for the job," Chrysler CFO Ron Kolka said.

The Chrysler Town and Country, passed over for the position for the second time in
